EMERGENCY Preparedness

If it happened today... cochrane.ca/emergencypreparedness

Are you prepared?

Emergencies don't come with a warning, but with the right preparation, you can be ready for whatever comes your way. Whether it's updating your emergency plans, checking your supplies, or connecting with your neighbors, every step you take today can protect you, your family and your community tomorrow.

Preparedness starts with you.

Get ready for camping season, Cochrane!

Beginning May 1, residents may store recreational vehicles in their driveways.

Please keep safety in mind this season:

- A maximum of two recreational units may be stored at one time.
- Do not block parking spaces.
- No sleeping or cooking is permitted in parked units.
- Units must be set back 0.6 m from the rear property line where a rear lane exists

Let's work together to keep our neighbourhoods safe and enjoyable for everyone.

MOTORCYCLE SAFETY

Sharing the road safely means looking out for everyone—including those on two wheels.

Share the road, Cochrane

Looking out for people on two wheels helps everyone get home safely.

- Motorcycles: leave extra space, signal early, and check blind spots.
- Cyclists: wear a helmet, follow the rules, stay visible and alert.

Small choices make a big difference.
